News has been received here of the death of Dorothy Vaughan, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Vaughan, formerly of this town, but who for the last four years have been at Shelburne, where Mr. Vaughan is superintendent of the Shelburne farms. Dorothy had the influenza and recovered but the effects of the same aggravated a goitre, which had been coming on for two years, and there seemed to be no other alternative but an operation which was performed at the Mary Fletcher hospital, and from which she never rallied, living only about an hour. The remains were brought here on Friday on the afternoon train, and interment was in the Morse-Vaughan lot at Pleasant View cemetery. Deceased is the granddaughter of Mrs. D. H. WELLS RIVER

"Rebellious Jane" played to a capacity house at village hall on Wednesday night. It was a three-act comedy that was a scream from beginning to end. The parts, all taken by local and well-known parties, were chosen and acted in a manner that showed that great care and preparation had been taken to make this a great big success. It was a play in three acts, each act producing something funny and original. Between the acts were specialties of a humorous nature. A community sing between act one and two in which all the popular songs were sung, the audience joining in. Klark's orchestra was in attendance under the leadership of Perley Klark himself, late of the U. S. navy, and the life he put into his music showed the skill he had acquired aboard the battleship in the navy band. The dance which followed the show was well attended. The proceeds, which netted about $75, will be equally divided between the local Red Cross and United War Worker's campaign. Following is the cast of characters: Mrs. Delafield, Mrs. Frank M. George; Jane, her daughter, Miss Hazel Doty; Elizabeth Weston, her secretary, Miss Mary Fellows; Mammy Rose, her maid, Miss Ruth Randall; Sammie, the Heathloom, Mrs. Edgar Stanley; Ellen, her maid Miss Florence Glynn; Manda Sharpwell, Mrs. Learned Smith; Elsie Reynolds, Miss Lucille Angel; Martha Smith, Miss Beatrice Smith; scout master and boy scouts.

Perley Clark, who enlisted in the U. S. navy as musician at the beginning of the war, is at home.

GRANTEEVILLE

Lieut. Murdo Campbell Writes of the Last Big Struggle of War.

First Lieut. Murdo Campbell writes home from France regarding conditions before and after the signing of the armistice, the letter being dated Nov. 13. He begins by saying, "Have seen a lot since writing you my last letter at Le Mans. Suppose the United States is rejoicing because of the armistice and the whole world might, as it surely was a terrible struggle. The last drive was too much for the Germans. It surely was some drive. All this territory is an awful mess. Towns blown up and a shell hole about every 20 feet over the whole territory."

"We may be stationed near the line or even in German territory for some time. It makes me feel good to think that I was good enough to send up on the front line in such an important drive, although it stopped so soon, and I am glad, as a man's life wouldn't be worth much there."

"Today is a beautiful day and very quiet. It's hard to believe that this front can be so quiet. Sunday night the guns on the whole front baptized the Germans all right. One of the Vermont men is with me yet, but don't know how long. It was very discouraging to leave the outfit, but it's all in the game."

"Here is a piece of a wing from a German airplane, which fell near here."

The ladies of St. Ann's society will meet at 8:30 Saturday morning to attend the funeral of Mrs. Patrick Sheehan. Signed, vice-president.

CABOT

Arthur Roy, Aged 10, Drowned While Skating on River.

Seldom has the community in general sustained such a shock as that of Thursday afternoon, Dec. 5, when the startling news came that Arthur Roy, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Roy, had been drowned while skating on the river. Directly after school closed for the day, Arthur, with a schoolmate, Eddie La-deau, went skating on the meadow of E. A. Smith and from there to the river, which is near. Both boys broke through the ice, Eddie getting out with no difficulty and trying manfully to assist Arthur. His strength was not sufficient to grasp him from the current and the boy was swept down under the ice. In a short time a large crowd had gathered along the bank of the stream and, after an anxious search, the body was located and taken from the water just before dark by Walter Ford, and borne to the home of the bereaved family, which is about a mile from the village. Arthur was a boy of good habits, beloved by his teacher and schoolmates, a boy whom everybody spoke well of. His remains were taken Saturday to Hardwick, where funeral services were held in the Catholic church with burial in the Catholic cemetery. The sympathy of our entire community is extended to the family and other relatives in their sad affliction.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Wilson and daughter, Mrs. Charles George, of Marshfield, were called here last Saturday to attend the funeral of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Houghton.

Cabot branch is called upon for 150 pairs of socks, to be completed by Feb. 1. As yet yarn has not been received, but is expected daily.

Corinth is what is called a back town; that is, it isn't on a railroad; but that it is far from being a back number, in any sense except that it backs up all good causes, and does not back down at big stunts we think the following figures will show: In the third Liberty loan it subscribed 250 per cent of its quota, in the fourth 180 per cent of its quota, war savings stamps pledged 110 per cent of its quota, Red Cross 135 per cent of its quota, United War Work 177 per cent of official maximum quota. Would be glad to hear from any Orange county town with a better record.
